ALLIES JUMP
25 MILES ON
ITALIAN FRONTDISORGANIZED NAZIS
TOSS EQUIPMENT AND SURRENDER

BY SID FEDER

Rome, June 16 (AP)—Pursuing disorganized German troops who in many instances were throwing away their equipment and surrendering in droves, Allied forces leaped forward as much as 25 miles in the past 24 hours in their drive up the Italian peninsula and reached points within 85 miles of the enemy's so-called Pisa-Florence-Rimini defense line.

American troops pounding up the west coast captured Grosseto, nearly 100 airline miles from Rome, after a swift advance from Orbetello. Grosseto was the site of one of the Nazi's major military airbases, and its long landing strips will be of almost immediate value to the Allied tactical air force in harassing the enemy's retreat.

Prisoners By Hundreds
Eighth army formations swept through the industrial city of Terni and on beyond into the highway towns of Todi and Massa Martana, 60 airline miles north of Rome, without encountering any organized resistance. Fifth army forces pounded beyond Lake Bolsena through Acquapendente, 65 miles northwest of the capital, and South African armored units reached 10 miles beyond Orvieto to Ficule.

Since the break in their temporary defense line two days ago the Nazis have fled so fast the Allies have had difficulty keeping in touch with them. Abandoned enemy equipment carpets the roadsides and German prisoners have streamed to the rear in increasing numbers. One Eighth army armored regiment took so many prisoners it had to call for assistance to handle them.

All across the peninsula, from the Tyrrhenian Sea to the Adriatic, enemy forces were beating their way north under relentless punishment, trying to reach a defense line they could hold even temporarily.

Airfields Shot Up
American troops driving up the west coast beyond captured Orbetello approached the next major center of Grosseto, nearly 100 miles from Rome, despite increased enemy artillery fire and systematic demolitions. The enemy's 162nd Tactical Air Division showed signs of being a stand before Grosseto and there was hard fighting at some points. The Nazis were using anti-tank guns as artillery in some instances in their desperate effort to slow the American advance.

Lightning and Mustang fighters shot up five enemy airfields near Avignone in southern France yesterday, destroying parked planes, hangars and locomotives and tank cars on nearby rail sidings. Allied heavy bombers were idle, but mediums hammered communications in northern Italy. Eighteen Allied planes were lost and seven enemy craft shot down.

Salvage Of Scrap
Paper Falling Off

Lansing, June 16 (AP)—The state salvage committee said today that although most householders were saving scrap paper for use, much usable paper is being lost because a survey showed householders said it was "too much bother" to save corrugated paper cartons or paper bags.

The committee said the waste paper campaign would emphasize collections from stores, many of which said it believed to be lagging in contributions.

FINN MINISTER
IS SENT HOMEAction Is Not A Break
In Relations, State
Department Says

Washington, June 16 (AP)—The United States government declared Finland's four top diplomats guilty of activities "inimical to the interests of the United States" today and directed them to leave the country as quickly as possible.

Pending their departure, the diplomats and their families were ordered confined to their homes except for exercise and other specified purposes and were placed under police surveillance. Their telephone lines were ordered disconnected although 45 minutes after the action was taken it was possible to reach them at the Finnish legation. There was no comment forthcoming, however. The Finnish minister, Hjalmar J. Procopé, was handed his passport at the state department at 5 p. m. (E.W.T.) today. The passports of his three counselors were delivered to them by American diplomatic officials.

Later, Procopé and the others appeared on the legation steps to pose for photographers.

"I am sorry this has happened," he told them.

Approximately a dozen plainclothes officers were stationed in the immediate vicinity of the house after the state department had disclosed its decision.

Adrian Fire Truck
Burns Up At Fire

Adrian, Mich., June 16 (AP)—A city fire truck dispatched to extinguish a blaze in a Consumer Power Co. garage here tonight was destroyed by the fire.

Fire men drove the truck inside the garage to put out a blaze in one of the company's trucks. An explosion followed and the flames spread rapidly, enveloping the fire truck and destroying the garage, about 25 of the company's service trucks and a considerable amount of line maintenance equipment. Only three of the firm's trucks were removed from the garage.

King George Visits
Beachhead In France

London, June 16 (AP)—King George visited the Normandy beachhead today.

A court circular said the king was accompanied by the Sir Alan Lascelles, his private secretary, and Capt. Sir Harold Campbell of the royal navy.

No details of the visit were given. King George's visit followed similar crossings by Prime Minister Winston Churchill, Gen. Charles De Gaulle, and several members of the Allied high command.

47 PLANES ARE DESTROYED

BY LEIF ERICKSON

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, June 16 (AP)—A carrier task force, making the Pacific fleet's closest approach of the war to Japan's homeland, bombed Chichi Jima and Haha Jima in the Bonin Islands Wednesday, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

Striking 588 miles from Yokohama, the carrier planes destroyed 47 Japanese planes, sank two ships, and damaged 12 more vessels.

Two Jima, in the Kagan or Volcano Island group 150 miles to the south, also was hit. The attacks clearly were intended to knock out air bases from which the Japanese might attack American amphibious forces that landed Wednesday morning on Saipan Island in the Marianas, 728 miles southeast of the Bonins, and were advancing against stiff enemy resistance.

Closing in to strike the Bonin bases for the first time, the American carrier force undoubtedly

A fleet spokesman said the carrier strike at the Bonins apparently caught the Nipponese completely by surprise at all three island objectives.

A medium transport, discovered under way near the Bonins, was heavily damaged by carrier bombs.

CHRYSLER TOOL
GRINDERS QUITImportant Work Halted
At Super-Fortress
Plant In Chicago

Chicago, June 16 (AP)—Officials of the Dodge Chicago plant of the Chrysler Corporation, which is producing about 90 per cent of the power plants for the new B-29 Superfortresses, announced that all its 117 tool grinders quit work today in protest over the discharge of one worker.

The company would not say whether the work stoppage had affected the production of engines beyond stating:

"Tool grinding is one of the most important operations in manufacturing parts for the B-29 Superfortress bomber engines."

The company said all 67 tool grinders on the first shift quit work at 4 p. m., a half hour before their shift was to end and that the entire second shift of 50 tool grinding employees refused to work also.

In a recent labor board election, the tool grinders voted for the UAW-CIO union to represent them. A spokesman at UAW local headquarters said they had no knowledge yet of any work stoppage at the plant. The company said the worker was discharged for "refusing to work" and that the tool grinders said they would not return to their jobs until the man was rehired.

The strike, the first reported at the plant, came a day after the war department disclosed a raid by the huge bombers on Japan. The plant, sprawling over 500 acres with one unit alone covering 83 acres, is called the largest in the world. Production began last January and was 55 per cent ahead of schedule last month, an army spokesman reported.

WADER DROWNED

South Haven, Mich., June 16 (AP)—Gale Galloway, 15, drowned today while wading at a Lake Michigan beach here. She and Jeanne Dykstra, also 15, were caught in an undertow, but Miss Dykstra was saved when she grasped a log pushed out to her by Margaret Martenson, 15.

Nippon's Factory
Town Of Yawata
Blasted By B-29s

BY CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH

First detailed stories of the longest bomber flight ever made—more than a 2,000 mile round-trip—indicated that the Americans might have knocked out a fifth of the enemy's steel production at Yawata, on the north shore of Kyushu Island 500 miles southwest of Tokyo.

A communique issued here said "heavy damage" was inflicted at Yawata.

"This is but the beginning of our organized destruction of the Japanese industrial empire," declared Brig. Gen. Kenneth B. Wolfe, chiefly responsible for the production of the sky giant and in charge of the mission.

Associated Press Correspondent Thoburn Wiant, who went along on the raid, wrote while over the target:

"Japan's vital steel works is being reduced to a huge rubbish heap by America's biggest, fastest and deadliest bombers roaring overhead one after another. It will take the Japanese months to recover from this blow."

Preliminary reports indicated that the Japanese defenders were surprised as the first big ship thundered over Yawata, which produces one-fifth of the enemy's steel. But intense anti-aircraft fire was encountered by succeeding bombers, which unloaded their destructive cargoes on the enemy's coke ovens and open hearth furnaces.

The Japanese also put some night fighters into the air, but there was no indication that these were effective in combating the heavily-armed Super Fortresses, which flew all the way unescorted.

Of a special panel of 100 prospective jurors which reported for duty this morning, only about a dozen were left available for when court adjourned tonight. Circuit Judge John Simpson excused 62 of them for various reasons, largely because they were too busy at work on farms or in war plants, and peremptory challenges by the defense and prosecution accounted for most of the others.

Adjournment found 13 of the 14 needed jurors tentatively selected, but with no assurance that many more changes would not be made. The defendants are accused of conspiracy to distort the making of laws affecting finance and small loan companies, by the passing of bribes.

Picard Turns Down
McCrea's Petition
For Prison Release

Detroit, June 16 (AP)—Judge Frank A. Picard in federal court today refused a writ of habeas corpus to Duncan C. McCrea through which the former Wayne county prosecutor hoped to obtain a federal court review of his conviction and sentencing in the state courts on a charge of collecting graft during his tenure of office.

McCrea is serving a 4½ to 5 years prison term. He contended his constitutional rights had been violated by the fact that Senator Homer Ferguson, then circuit judge, returned the indictment against him and then sat as examining magistrate to order the former prosecutor for trial. Judge Picard ruled that the action was not illegal and that McCrea was not denied his right of trial by jury.

Results of a primary in the District of Columbia, as announced by Russell Balderson, a delegate and member of the Democratic central committee, showed the election of a six-vote delegation pledged to Mr. Roosevelt. Three votes were cast against a fourth term. One of these favored James A. Farley.

On the Republican side, Albany reported receipt of petitions signed by 13,000 persons in Michigan urging Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for the Republican presidential nomination and expressing hope he will accept if nominated.

NORMANDY BEACHHEAD. (By wireless)—The ship on which I rode to see invasion of the continent brought certain components of the second wave of assault troops. We arrived in the congested waters of the beachhead shortly after dawn on D-day.

We aboard this ship had secretly dreaded the trip, for we had expected attacks from U-boats, E-boats, and at night from aircraft. Yet nothing whatever happened.

We were at sea for a much longer time than it would ordinarily take to make a sea-line journey from England to France. The convoy we sailed in was one of several which comprised what is known as a "force."

As we came down the English Channel was crisscrossed with forces going both ways, and as I write it is still a minesweeper had swept wide channels for us, all the way from England to France. These were marked with buoys. Each channel was miles wide.

Boats Were Everywhere
We surely saw there before us more ships than any human had ever seen before at one glance. And going north were other vast convoys, some composed of fast liners speeding back to England for new loads of troops and equipment.

As far as you could see in every direction the ocean was infested with ships. There must have been every type of ocean-going vessel in the world. I even thought I saw a paddlewheel.

REDS SMASHING
NEARER VIIPURIFinnish Resistance Can Not Continue For Long,
Observers Believe

BY RUSSELL LANDSTROM

London, June 16 (AP)—Soviet forces smashing along the northern front captured more than 100 additional populated places today as the Red army of Gen. Leonid A. Govorov forged deeper into Finland despite savage resistance by the Finns, Moscow announced tonight.

The Soviet striking force, estimated in Sweden as at least six divisions totaling probably 70,000 men, seemed headed irresistibly for the key port and naval base of Viipuri.

Among the newly captured communities named by the broadcast Russian communique tonight were Usikirkko, slightly more than 32 miles southwest of the big port, and Jukkola, Virola, Mäkelä, Pistoia and Putrola-Liettila in the same area.

But Moscow radio reports indicated that the other points taken by the slugging Soviet army were as close as 25 miles to Viipuri. Neutral observers said it would be impossible for Finland to continue resistance for any great length of time and psychological warfare was becoming almost as important as the fierce land battles.

Iceland Abrogates
Danish Treaty, Now
Is Newest Republic

Reykjavik, Iceland, June 16 (AP)—Iceland formally abrogated the Danish-Icelandic union treaty today and will be proclaimed the world's newest republic tomorrow.

Executing the mandate of last month's referendum in which voters approved establishment of a republic, the Althing, Iceland's legislative body, formally abrogated the union treaty and unanimously passed a bill declaring the country a republic.

Tomorrow parliament will have an open air meeting to proclaim rebirth of the republic and to elect a president for a one-year term. The meeting will be at the Thingvellir (Parliament Plains) where the 1,000-year-old Althing has met for centuries.

Every church bell in the country will be rung. Reykjavik was gaily decorated with flags today to mark the opening of the 2-day celebration.

Present at today's abrogation session were envoys of the United States, Britain, Norway, Sweden and Fighting French.

Vatican City, June 16 (AP)—Thirty truckloads of food arrived at the Vatican today.

They were brought here by Vatican vehicles from Anzio where two Spanish ships docked with supplies for the Papal State. Part of the shipment will go to feed residents of Vatican city and part will be distributed to the poor of Rome.

Vatican trucks are being used also to ship Allied military government food into Rome for civilians.

LAST GERMAN
IN GUN RANGEHIGHWAY HUB HELD;
MONTEBOURG IS RETAKEN

BY JAMES M. LONG

Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, Saturday, June 17 (AP)—American troops cut the last German rail escape route out of Cherbourg yesterday with the capture of strategic St. Sauveur Le Vicomte, and also retaken Montebourg, only 14 miles southeast of the prize port, after a furious four-day battle.

The Germans clearly faced a crisis in trying to keep their badly-mauled troops from being split on the peninsula.

Artillery Blocks Road
American seizure of St. Sauveur, 18 miles south of Cherbourg, was confirmed officially at midnight by army officials in France. It all but cut in two the Axis forces on the peninsula, because U. S. artillery now is within range of the west coast highway six miles beyond St. Sauveur.

This highway is the last Axis link between the French interior and thousands of imperilled German troops in the Cherbourg area. Seven miles south of St. Sauveur the Americans were reported only four miles from La Haye Du Puits, highway hub of even more importance than St. Sauveur, since the west coast road runs through it. The Americans gained two miles from Pretot in the drive on La Haye, dispatches said.

Americans Enter Town
A three-mile gain southwest of Carentan was made by another American column fighting its way across the peninsula.

Capture of St. Sauveur represented a three-mile gain from Regneville and carried the Yanks across the Douve river on the east side of St. Sauveur. Associated Press correspondent Don attest said the Americans entered St. Sauveur at noon Friday, fighting from house to house. It is a junction of two big highways. Headquarters communique No. 22 issued just before midnight told of advances westward across the Cherbourg peninsula but gave no details. It also said that Allied troops had scored local successes in the Tilly sector near the eastern end of the front where British and Canadians are engaged. Tilly, however, remains in enemy hands, the bulletin said.

Dead Litter Roads
The Germans fought desperately yesterday in an unsuccessful effort to stem the Americans. Whitehead said. The Americans were moving over roads littered with Axis dead and wrecked equipment.

Tough young Nazi soldiers formed the core of resistance in the area, but they had hurled Polish, Russian and Czech conscripts into the forefront.

The Americans entered St. Sauveur at noon, but there was no official word yet of its capture. Whitehead told of house-to-house battles inside the town. He himself entered it after patrols had gone across the Douve and penetrated into the town.

A headquarters spokesman said it was expected that in a town of such obvious strategic importance the Germans almost certainly would try to win it back with counterattacks as they did last

Red Cross Blood Bank Program Given Praise

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Most of the things that we live at home do to help in the struggle across the Atlantic seem pretty unrelated to that battle. But there's one way in which every American, excepting only the youngest and the oldest, can for a little time play a direct and vital part on the battlefield.

When you go to the Red Cross to give blood, you feel a real link with our fighting men, lying there as the little bottle fills from the needle that taps the vein in your arm, you are likely to think some long thoughts.

You wonder if the blood you're giving may not, by one of those strange coincidences that life is so full of, go to help save a friend or a relative. You think of yourself as part of a living stream uniting men and women all over the world.

Quota Is 5,000,000 Pints

As conducted by the Red Cross at the request of the Army and the Navy, the blood donor service is big business. The quota set for this year is 5,000,000 pints. Last year the Red Cross collected 4,280,000 pints, which was more than the armed services asked for.

At the end of 1944 the total will be approximately 10,650,000 or nearly a pint of blood for every man in the service. As in all military planning, the Army and Navy allow for every possible contingency. It's better to have too much blood plasma than too little.

No single therapy has proved so effective as the plasma transfusion. Probably no one will ever be able to estimate even roughly the number of lives saved by the stream of blood that flows from America to all the battle fronts.

The Red Cross now has thirty-five donor centers in as many cities. To surrounding communities come mobile blood donor units on regular schedule. Much of the work is on a volunteer basis. The thousands of women who give their time to have the satisfaction of knowing that almost nothing they could do could be more useful.

The start of the invasion touched off a rush to the donor centers. That was a heartening response to the news of battle. But what the Red Cross wants is steady customers. Weekly quotas must be filled. It is now stabilized at around 100,000 to 110,000 pints a week in accord with available laboratory facilities. Therefore the donor service works toward permanent lists of people who come back on schedule.

Negro Blood Separated
Only in one instance has this remarkably successful volunteer service come into controversy. While the blood of negroes is exactly the same as the blood of whites, the Red Cross collects from and distributes to the two races separately.

This separation caused sharp criticism. Here, said the critics, was a chance to show that the human race is bound together by a physical unity transcending all prejudices and passions of the moment. It was wrong, the argument went, to defer to primitive prejudice.

The Red Cross replied that the separation was "in deference to the wishes of those for whom the plasma is being provided"; in deference, that is, to the Army and Navy. Those responsible apparently felt you could not fight a global war and at the same time cure a deep-seated prejudice.

In any event, one cannot question the decision of the Red Cross. They had the job to do. They had to go not to the few but to the many for this fluid vital to human life. It is not hard to imagine the outcry from southern congressmen if the Red Cross had gone counter to the prejudices of a region from which a high proportion of our fighting men have come.

Careful medical research has shown that, with vast majority, repeated blood-giving has no effect on the general health of the individual. With some it may even have a beneficial effect in stimulating regeneration of the hemoglobin.

As small a contribution as it is, you nevertheless have a feeling of pride when you leave and the Red Cross lady in trim gray uniform writes another date on the back of your record of blood donations. For an hour you've been privileged to participate in the conflict on which our destiny depends.

Rocket Powder Output Stepped Up At Ishpeming

Ishpeming—The supply of rocket powder—probably the most revolutionary weapon of the war—will be materially increased the latter part of 1944 when a 24 million dollar addition to a Hercules Powder company operated ordnance plant in Wisconsin, Badger Ordnance Works, is completed, it was revealed in Wilmington Del., today by Hercules company officials.

So vital is the production of rocket powder, the Army has placed it on the critical list ahead of planes, aviation gasoline, tanks and ships. Rockets have proved an important factor in the capture of several Pacific islands by the Marines at a considerable saving of lives.

The new propellant is being produced at Hercules-operated Sunflower Ordnance Works in Kansas and production is continually being increased.

Hercules began research work in this field about six years ago and three years ago stepped up the research work considerably.

Speed Production
Importance of the war rocket in the arsenal of the Allied armaments was greatly increased by the Hercules production method which materially reduced the time required to manufacture rocket propellant powder.

The explosive development which has finally made the rocket an important military weapon is the great improvement in its accuracy, making it more comparable with the accuracy of a gun. Before this war rocket projectiles were very erratic in flight.

Rockets, including the famous "Bazooka" have been used to blast the enemy from strongly fortified positions on the Marshall, Kwajalein and other Pacific islands and prepare the way for beach landings. American planes in the Pacific are now firing rockets from launchers placed on the wings.

CHEMICAL CO. SELLS PLANT

Some Equipment Will Be Shipped To Texas Location

Official announcement was made yesterday by George C. Craver, general manager of the Delta Chemical company, that negotiations have finally been closed for the sale of various parts of the plant at Wells to the Defense Plant Corporation for removal to a new site in Texas. At the same time Mr. Craver announced the sale of the remaining portions of the plant and all of the company's lands and buildings to the West End Iron & Metal Corporation of Duluth, Minn.

The work of preparing the portion of the plant that has been sold to the Defense Plant Corporation, for removal to a new location in Texas, is to be started immediately and shipments are expected to go forward in quick succession.

The Duluth purchasers of that part of the plant not included in the sale made to the Washington authorities, together with the company's buildings and lands, are expected to proceed more slowly. In determining the use of their newly acquired property it is announced the company will be interested in working with the new industries division of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, in an endeavor to bring new users here for the available buildings and lands.

MERTINS PROMOTED

Iron River—Presenting Captain Harry W. Mertins, Jr. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Mertins, Sr., Iron River, the younger Mertins, on Monday, was promoted from first lieutenant to captain at Fort Dix, N. J., where he is attached to an infantry unit. In the service 28 months, Capt. Mertins received his commission as second lieutenant when he was graduated from Michigan State college in June, 1939. He was elevated to first lieutenant in January, 1943, at Camp Robinson, Little Rock, Ark.

GETS $27,774 JUDGMENT

Marquette—Dr. Horace E. Metz-

ner, Gwinnt dentist who sued the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company for $50,000 as a result of injuries he received in 1941 when, as a spectator at the blasting of an old steel shafthouse at the Francis mine in Forsyth township, he was struck by flying pieces of steel, yesterday was awarded a judgment of $27,774.98 by a jury in United States district court.

Before the case was given to the jury, defense counsel moved for a directed verdict in favor of the defendant. Judge Fred M. Raymond, deciding to let the case go to the jurors, took the motion under advisement and will rule on it later.

The plaintiff, who claimed total and permanent disability, sought compensation for pain and suffering, hospital and doctors' bills and for loss of income through inability to practice dentistry.

Prosecutor Strom Advises County Election Boards

Speaking to election board members from the cities and townships of Delta county last night, Prosecutor Torval E. Strom advised them on election laws, and the war time voting machinery established for persons in the armed forces.

The meeting was called by County Clerk Theodore Ohlen and was an instruction session required by law. The primary election in Michigan will be held July 11, followed by the general election in November.

Prosecutor Strom said in part: The congress of the United States recently passed Public Law No. 277, which is an act to facilitate voting in time of war, by members of the land and naval forces and others in various branches of government service.

This law provides for a short form of federal ballot for voting for president, senators and congressmen. It also provides for a post card form of application for ballots. The law asks for the various states to enact proper laws to enable absent armed forces to vote by absent voters' ballot.

This federal law applies to members of the armed forces and Merchant Marine, Red Cross and similar service organizations who are outside of the United States, but only to members of the armed forces who are inside of the United States. In other words, the federal act does not apply to members of the Red Cross, United Service organizations, or similar outfits who are inside of the United States.

The law also applies only in those states which have not established a procedure for absent voters, or to those states which have no absent voter laws, but have adopted laws authorizing the use of the federal ballot. It also applies to those individuals in the armed services outside of the United States who apply for a state absent voters' ballot before September 1, but who do not receive it by October 1.

As we have in Michigan a very good absent voters' law, which the legislature this year has especially adapted for the use of men in the armed services, wherever they may be, outside of their voting residence, I think that we may very well waste no time in the consideration of the federal act, except for one thing, namely, the post card application for the absent voters' ballot.

Our Michigan act provides for a form of application for the absent voters' ballot and this may be used by soldiers and sailors and others in the service but time would be wasted in sending them out for signature. To avoid this, and to simplify the matter, our Michigan act provides that any member of the armed forces of the United States, any auxiliary thereof, or the Merchant Marine, or any nurse or civilian on war duty otherwise qualified as an elector under the laws of this state, whether registered or unregistered, may apply for such absent voters' ballot for the November 1944 election, upon the form herein prescribed or upon such other form as may be provided under and by virtue of the public laws of the United States, and such applications may be forwarded to the secretary of state or to the township or city clerk.

The secretary of state shall prescribe rules and regulations with respect to absent voters' ballots in primary elections, in compliance with the purposes and requirements of this act.

The state law also provides that when these post card applications go to the secretary of state, he shall forward them to the county clerk with a list of the applications, names and addresses. The county clerk in turn must turn over these to the local township and city clerks. They must immediately send a ballot to the applicant. This ballot will have attached to it, a statement of oath which the service man must sign before an authorized commanding officer.

It is the duty of each city and township clerk to enter the service man on the registration lists, if he is not already so registered.

It is interesting to note, in connection with the mailing out of the official ballots and the return envelopes to bring them back, that the federal law provides for the transmission of the envelopes both ways, free of postage, and via air mail, providing both envelopes are plainly marked or printed with the words "Official Federal War Ballot."

It must also be noted that these provisions of the Michigan law leave it up to the secretary of state to arrange for a system of absent voters' ballots for the primaries. What he has done in this matter with reference to the primary on July 11, I cannot say. I would advise that wherever a primary election ballot can be sent to any man in the service, that this be done. With reference to all applications which have been received, it is also my opinion that those applications can be held and used for the ballots for the November election and should be so used.

It is the intent of congress that the federal law shall be most liberally construed in favor of the service man. The same is true of the Michigan absent voters' law. Both are intended to see that every service man be given the opportunity to cast his vote at all elections that take place for the duration and thereafter during the absence of the men in the service.

Finally, I would say that any type of application, whether it be the post cards furnished by the United States, or the formal applications prescribed by state law, or just an ordinary post card or letter request, it should be honored by state and local officials in Michigan.

I believe that it is the intent of the law to waive any technical deficiency in form which the application may contain as a result of the service men not having been furnished with a proper form of application, or information as to its required contents. This is especially true where the service man has lost the formal application sent to him while in the performance of his duty on foreign soil or elsewhere.

MICHAEL HIRN, ESCANABA, DIES

Funeral Services To Be Held On Monday Morning

Michael Hirn, 75, of 417 South 16th street, died at 6 o'clock Friday morning at his home. He had been in poor health for the past six years.

Mr. Hirn was born on January 20, 1869, in Belgium, Wis., and he had lived in Escanaba for sixty years. He was a member of St. Joseph's parish, of the Holy Name society of the church and of St. Joseph's Court, No. 392, Catholic Order of Foresters.

He leaves his widow, the former Josephine Kraus, two sons, Marvin and Clyde of Chicago, and Mary Lou, of Escanaba; and three grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Boyce funeral home where it will be in state beginning Sunday noon. Services will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Joseph's church, with Rev. Fr. Alphons, O. F. M., officiating at the requiem high mass.

CRABBY THE ACT

Chicago (P)—Bob Williams, who received $1,250 a week for one of vaudeville's best known dog acts, has been forced to retire. While his act was here, the star dog of the act, Red Dust, ate some rat poison and died. Williams had never trained an understudy.

TREE TRIMMING STARTS MONDAY

Street Shade Trees Will Be Beautified, Says
City Forester

The pruning of street shade trees on lawn strips in Escanaba will be started Monday by a crew of four men under the direction of City Forester Robert Clayton. It was announced yesterday.

The work will be started in the city hall block on First avenue south and will be extended east and west to the limits of the street. More can be accomplished working in one area and completing it than by moving here and there about the city, Clayton explained.

All low-hanging branches which interfere with pedestrian or car traffic will be removed, as well as dead or weak limbs which might prove a hazard. Purpose of the program is to improve the condition of the trees, and to make the streets more sightly.

The work will be continued as rapidly as possible, but the scope of the work done this summer will depend upon the amount of labor available.

There is no charge to the owners of abutting properties. The entire shade tree program, in which the city will over a period of years beautify its streets, is paid for from city funds.

The program includes plans for planting new trees of desirable species on city owned property during the fall and spring months. Here again the scope of the planting will depend on the number of trees available, and the labor to do the planting.

Fall and winter work of the forestry department crew will include the removal of dead, diseased and undesirable species of trees on city property.

Rapid River Lions Hold Installation

The Rapid River Lions club in meeting Thursday night installed new officers for the ensuing year, with Art Goulais of Escanaba installing officer, Ralph Sheehan of Marquette, past district governor, addressed the club.

The officers are: Joseph Casimir, preside; Clare Armstrong, first vice president; Harry Buchanan, second vice president; William Miller, secretary; and Edward Wasseen, treasurer.

Directors installed were Fred Cavill, Kenneth Scott and Rev. Gerald Smith. Charles Turan is tall twister for the club, and George Muth Lion tamer.

Mr. and Mrs. William Miller presented the Lions club with a flag in remembrance of their son, Ensign Robert Miller, who was killed in action in the South Pacific on September 25, 1943.

Guernsey Breeder Receives Award

In recognition of increased dairy production in 1943, the American Guernsey Cattle club recently sent Nels Johnson, Clover Leaf Dairy Farm, Route No. 1, Box 80, Escanaba, an Award of Merit, Victory Certificate.

His Guernsey herd produced a total of 261,227 pounds of milk and 10,225.9 pounds of butterfat in 1943, a 15.3 per cent increase in milk and a 12.8 per cent gain in fat over the 1942 production. This attractive certificate is evidence of the vital contribution made by Clover Leaf Dairy Farm to the war effort.

All Guernsey breeders that maintained or increased milk and butterfat production in 1943 are eligible to receive a certificate.

Any increase in production and the total production of the unit is noted on the certificate.

MONTGOMERY WARD'S STATEMENT

to the Special Investigating Committee of the HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

"THE FACTS WARDS HAS RECITED SHOW:

1. The Post Office aided the union during the strike at Wards and sought to excuse its actions to this Committee by misrepresenting the facts.
2. The National Labor Relations board gerrymandered the bargaining units at Chicago to insure a union victory, and to force union representation upon the retail store employees who by remaining at work during the strike had clearly shown their rejection of the union.
3. The National Labor Relations Board has given a wholly false excuse for its action.
4. The War Labor Board, and the Attorney General, to distract attention from their own illegal acts, have untruthfully attacked Ward's labor policies.
5. The War Labor Board violated the law by granting a contract to the union when the union had refused to prove that it had any legal right to represent Ward's employees.
6. The War Labor Board, by ordering the retroactive reinstatement of maintenance of membership, would have made impossible the holding of a fair election among Ward's employees. Obedience to the order would have forced Wards, before the election was held, to discharge the many employees who had exercised their right to resign from the union.
7. The National Labor Relations Board and the War Labor Board conspired together to bring about the seizure of Ward's properties to enforce an order which they knew to be illegal and unfair.
8. The War Labor Board and the Attorney General have sought to prevent Wards from obtaining a hearing in the courts on the illegality of the Board's orders, while seeking to impose those orders upon Wards by force.

These facts show that the Post Office, the Department of Justice, the National Labor Relations Board, and the War Labor Board, with the approval of the President, have acted together to give illegal and unfair assistance to the CIO union at Chicago.

Ward's experience ever since the passage of the Wagner Act has shown that the unfairness and prejudice illustrated by these actions is the common method by which these agencies are using the prestige of the government to force the surrender of the liberties of employers and employees everywhere.

By their policies of giving unfair and illegal assistance to labor unions, these bureaus have destroyed the established procedure of collective bargaining and have encouraged labor strife. Mr. William M. Leiserson, Chairman of the National Mediation Board pointed this out in a recent address, saying:

"The unions ... have come to depend on the Government to give them what they could not gain by collective bargaining with employers. And now, when the giving must stop because of the burdens of war and necessity to control inflation, they turn in resentment against the Government like children against over-indulgent parents ...

"Government agencies are perhaps more responsible for the present labor situation than the unions and their leaders. The dependence of workers' organizations on the Government is as much the result of their policies as of union policies."

By seeking to force Wards to obey an illegal order while depriving Wards of a hearing in the courts, these agencies have shown their lack of respect for our Constitution and the fundamental rights which the Constitution guarantees. The Constitution is no longer the supreme law of the land if those whose rights are threatened are deprived of an opportunity to obtain the protection of the courts.

From its experiences, Wards draws the conclusion that these many bureaus have formed a machine for purchasing political support from labor organizations.

Wards has long believed that, when the public awakens to the degree of coercion used by the administrative agencies of the government to force employers and employees to accept union restrictions in which they do not believe and which without such coercion they would avoid, it will rise in indignation. The public will demand that those appointed to office in these agencies act with simple fairness and obey the law or be removed from power.

The facts Wards has recited show, finally, that the President, to force Wards to obey an order known to his advisers to be unfair and illegal, ordered Ward's property seized by force.

The President's action in ordering the plant seized was the usurpation of a power not granted him by Congress and denied him by the Constitution he was sworn to uphold and defend.

The seizure of Ward's plant developed a spontaneous and continuing public indignation which resulted in this investigation. This indignation is easily interpreted. A free American people will not accept dictatorship."

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.

SEWELL AVERY

Chairman

This is the concluding summary of the statement made by Wards on June 6, 1944 to the Special Committee of the House of Representatives investigating the seizure of Ward's properties. The full statement will be gladly forwarded to any reader upon request.

It's Working Well

APPARENTLY Michigan's Civil Service law is working out about as well as could be expected, under the circumstances. At least about the only time the public hears anything about the operation of the law is when some department becomes involved in a jam with the State Civil Service Commission.

Charles M. Ziegler, state commissioner of highways, is the latest department head to be charged with opposing the intent of the law. The Commission charges that high ranking applicants for a deputy post in the highway department, were discouraged from taking the job, in order that a candidate favored by Ziegler might be held in employment.

Such a complaint may be considered just a little disturbing, but it provides the public with definite evidence that the Civil Service commission is on the job and that even minor infractions of the intent of the law are not being winked at.

Naturally not all the politicians and political office holders hold any great love, or even liking, for the law. It interferes with their time honored prerogative of dispensing patronage. There are some, however, who welcome relief from the patronage pressure of earlier days and even those most outspoken against the principles of Civil Service, demonstrate their displeasure by only minor infractions, that are usually speedily dealt with by the Civil Service commission.

The general public in Michigan is convinced that, through this law, those who pay the cost of government are getting more service for their money than ever before. And state employees, honest in their desires to do a good job are rewarded by having something to work for besides their semi-monthly pay check—permanence of employment is assured under Civil Service.

War Comes to Japan

BOMBING of the Japanese mainland by the new B-29 Super-Fortresses must have caused much consternation in Tokyo for it revealed that the war has entered a new and ominous phase for the Nipponese.

When General Doolittle and his flyers attacked Tokyo two years ago, the flight was made in carrier-based planes. But the new giants of the air were flown from land bases somewhere in the Chinese-India-Burma area, and so the Japanese militarists must be aware that many more bombings are in store for them.

General Doolittle's historic bombing raid caused relatively minor damage, although it aroused much consternation among the Japanese people, who had been led to believe by their propagandists that their homeland was secure from attack. The B-29 Super-Fortress, however, carries huge bomb loads, and the destruction at Moji, Shimonoseki and other military targets must have been heavy.

The Japanese people by this time must realize that war carries a two-edged sword. Their militarists have boasted of the bombing of civilian populations in China, Manila, Pearl Harbor and elsewhere, but now that their homeland is also on the receiving end the glimmers of war will be greatly dimmed for them.

Indications are that the B-29 raid will be shortly followed by others in a steady "softening up" process to prepare for the way for the conquest of Japan. The job of sending men, equipment and supplies to the Pacific theater apparently has been going ahead faster than we have been led to believe. The Japs are due for a lot of punishment, and very soon.

Our Pacific Islands

COLONEL C. H. LANZA, military commentator states in a Chicago paper that at least ten first class and five secondary bases must be retained by America in the Pacific after the war if peace is to be kept in those waters.

"Our duty to the Philippines and to ourselves requires that we keep these bases, and probably others in the Spice Islands and Malaya," says Colonel Lanza. Apparently no bases are included in Sumatra, Java, Borneo, or on the Malay peninsula, these former possessions, it is understood, are to be returned to the British and Dutch after Japan is defeated.

It is costing us the expenditure of priceless human lives and tremendous effort to win these islands from the Japanese, and they cannot be given up lightly. Before the war some of them were under British mandate, but Britain alone simply could not hold them against the crushing Japs. We have shown a stronger hand, and if the Japs think they can take away these vantage points from us, they are welcome to try it.

We must recognize the cold fact that as Pacific posts for American military and naval action if needed, the bases will be not alone valuable outposts for us, but they may become secondary causes of future wars. President McKinley could not sufficiently praise our action in taking over the Philippines, and neither he nor any other American statesmen had the foresight to see that the move alarmed Japan beyond measure. The Japs saw us creeping across the Pacific, from Hawaii to Guam to Midway to Manila, and they were fools enough to believe that we had designs on them and that they would be the next victims.

We lost the Philippines—temporarily, let us hope—because we played the fool, and did not keep ourselves strong enough to hold what we had. We can take over and retain indefinitely the Pacific islands as fast as we occupy them, but keeping them will be another story. There is only one way to hold them—and that is to build up and maintain naval and air power that will make good against all comers.

Those Nose Drops

EXTENSIVE publicity given to sulfa drugs in recent years has caused many people to think that they are a cure-all. This is not the case, for medical authorities have pointed out that the indiscriminate use of such remedies may cause more harm than good.

Speaking at the annual convention of the American Medical Association, Dr. Barney M. Kully of Los Angeles called attention to the dangers in using nose drops, particularly those which contain sulfa drugs. Dr. Kully listed more than two hundred compounds, including drops, sprays, inhalants and ointments, which are for colds and sinus troubles. He pointed out that the sufferer using these obtains temporary relief, but then is worse off when the eventual dilation of the nasal membranes occurs.

Apparently, the complete story of sulfa drugs is not known, and their use should be resorted to only upon the advice of the family physician.

Congress Helps

PRIVATE forestry has been given a big boost by legislation enacted recently by Congress, according to a statement by the National Resources department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

One of the most important legislative aids was the authorization of increased funds for fire prevention. A basic principle of this new fire protection legislation is equal contributions by the federal government on the one hand and by the states and private owners on the other.

A second important action of Congress is an act "to promote sustained yield forest management." That language simply means that the federal government, an extensive owner of forest lands, will enter into agreements with adjoining private timberland owners to make possible operation of the area as a single forest unit. The basic principle here is that the unit will be large enough to produce annually a volume of forests products to support an efficient forest operation.

Another piece of legislation that has just passed Congress would authorize funds to enable the federal government to complete a national forest survey.

Wood has played an important role in this war, all of which must have been a leading factor in influencing Congress to make extra provisions for the conservation and eventual expansion of our forest resources.

Other Editorial Comments

MUST BE DISARMED

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)

The American Institute of Public Opinion has been asking voters in all the states this question: As soon as Germany is defeated, do you think she will start making plans for another war?

Of those polled 60 per cent answered in the affirmative. No opinion was entertained by 19 per cent while 21 per cent answered "no."

From the diversity of opinion as to the kind of world organization that should be established at the end of the war and the kind of guardianship the United Nations should maintain for Germany and other Axis nations it is fairly apparent that the answer to these questions is not clear beyond a reasonable doubt.

But there is no room for doubt on the question of the responsibility of the major United Nations to disarm Germany and keep her disarmed for a generation or longer.

Whether the peace terms of 1920 were too hard or too easy is no longer important. The mistake that was made after the last war in permitting Germany to rebuild her great munitions industry and to prepare for the next war when most of the rest of the world was weary of war and wanted nothing as it wanted a respite from war.

If it be argued again as it was argued in the 1920s that the maintenance of a substantial armed force is essential to a nation's dignity, let the answer this time be that a nation which twice in a single generation has brought a destructive war upon the world has lost all right to a place of trust in a society of nations, that she must serve a long probationary period without army or navy or the production of any tools or instruments of war.

If Hitler had not been allowed to rearm Germany and to reinstitute conscription he would have had no armies to march into the Saar Valley or into the Rhineland. And without any army and without the substantial navy he set out to build immediately it is possible Hitler could not have developed such a tremendous following. His promises of world domination would have been empty but for the great military power he was creating while France and England and the United States gloried in their victories of 1917 and 1918.

On the question of the disarmament of Germany as a condition of surrender and peace there must be no question. And without arms a new Hitler cannot rise again to prepare Germany for still another war.

The Round Table

BY RAYMOND MOLEY

There is a very notable precedent to show how powerful a weapon the Democrats of Texas and Mississippi have forged in their opposition to Washington domination. That precedent is what happened in South Dakota in 1912. Curiously, so far, none of the comments on the Texas revolt have mentioned it.

In May of that year, Theodore Roosevelt, La Follette and Taft ran in the presidential primary. T. R. won. In June, the delegates selected in the South Dakota primary and pledged to T. R. bolted the Republican convention. They participated later in the Bull Moose convention which nominated Roosevelt. Before the election that year in South Dakota, the electors who appeared on the Republican ticket publicly announced that they would, if elected, refuse to vote for Taft and would cast the electoral vote of the state for Roosevelt. They were elected and they carried out their plan. Thus, the duly elected Republican electors of the state refused to be bound by the nomination of their party.

—ONLY ELECTORS' NAMES—

It should be noted that the names of the candidates for President were not on the South Dakota ballot in November. Only the electors' names appeared. In these circumstances, no Republican in the state could vote for Taft, and in the various compilations of the popular vote for that year, the state of South Dakota shows no vote for Taft.

The bolting electors justified their action on the grounds of their legal right to vote as they pleased, although that legal right was not seriously questioned. They also claimed a moral justification because the state, in its primary, had selected the Republican candidate and because the action of the Republican convention, in nominating Taft, was not binding on the state. That being true, they insisted on the right to vote for Roosevelt, even though he was nominated by another political party. Thus South Dakota established a principle of state sovereignty in party matters.

—VOTERS PREFERRED TEDDY—

The difference between this precedent and the situation in Texas and Mississippi is that the Republican voters in South Dakota clearly indicated a preference for T. R. in the primary, and the Texas and Mississippi voters have expressed no choice. They have no presidential preference primaries.

But in claiming the right to reject the party candidate, the Southern electors can claim a mandate from their state conventions which are, in their states, the official agents of Democratic voters. It may be fairly difficult to sustain this position, yet time alone will definitely answer the deeper question involved here.

Still, the South Dakota precedent amply sustains the Texas-Mississippi assertion that a state is free to express its choice for President, regardless of the action of a national convention. And that point may well be an issue of major importance before the year is over.

WORD QUIZ

Give yourself 10 points for each correct answer.

1. True or False? The expression "What the dickens" came from the surname of Charles Dickens, famous author.
2. Is it correct to say, "A new pair of shoes"?
3. True or False? The correct pronunciation of MIAMI is "mee-ah-mee."
4. Is it true that RUBBER got its name from the verb "to rub"?
5. True or False? In Mrs. Shelley's novel, Frankenstein is the monster who turns on and destroys his creator.
6. Is this sentence correct, "These are good molasses"?
7. True or False? The literal meaning of INCUBATOR is "to lie down upon."
8. Is "chase lounge" the correct pronunciation of CHAISE LONGUE?
9. True or False? The literal meaning of PIANO is "soft in volume."
10. Is this sentence correct, "This is the Joneses' house"?

1. False. The expression was in common use centuries before the author was born. "Dickens" is thought to be a euphemistic form of "devilkins."

2. No. The shoes are new, not the pair. Say: A pair of new shoes.

3. False. Say: my-AM-ee.

4. Yes. The first rubber was used for rubbing out pencil marks.

5. False. The monster has no name. Frankenstein was the creator of the monster.

6. No. Molasses is a singular noun. Say: This is good molasses.

7. True. The word is from the Latin incubare, "to lie down upon."

8. No. Say: shayz LAW(N)-guh. The "n" is nasalized.

9. True. Piano is the Italian word for "soft."

10. Correct. The plural possessive of the name Jones is Joneses.

CAUSE AND EFFECT—Over a period of years there has been a decline in the amount of tax revenue collected in Delta county for local governmental operations. And over the same period of years there has been an increase in the amount of so-called "state aid" returned to the county by the state.

While the term "state aid" is a misnomer, it is nevertheless true that Delta county receives from the state almost twice as much revenue as it collects locally.

The cause for this condition is the gradual acceptance of a fallacy—that the poorer the county can make itself appear, the larger will be the aid received from the state. It is a fallacy because, sooner or later, there will necessarily come a time when the local revenue which cannot be met on a devaluated property assessment.

This condition has finally hit Delta county with full force. It has made impossible of accomplishment the task of the local tax allocation committee—because the local tax pie is so small that the pieces aren't large enough for an adequate serving.

This leaves, in Delta county, the schools (or the county) going hungry for revenue. So far the tax allocation committee hasn't decided whether the schools or the county will get the smaller slice.

TAKE A LOOK—There are those who will point to the state as the big bad wolf, and say the state has designs on the innocent little lamb of local government. From this corner it appears that local government may be weak (financially) as a little lamb—but that's not the fault of the state. And certainly the state is not a wolf when it comes to finances.

Here are some figures supplied to Delta county supervisors recently by Prosecutor Torval Strom.

Within Delta county the total revenue collections turned over to the state were $585,889 for the fiscal year ending June 30.

For the same fiscal year the state returned $1,058,387 to Delta county—almost twice as much as it collected here.

Perhaps you'll be interested in knowing where this over-one-million dollars went: $51,288 went for general governmental purposes; $43,752 went for education; $43,021 went for public health and medical assistance; $34,331 was spent for public welfare; and $180,593 came back to the county for highway purposes.

WERE NOT POOR—The gradual decline in the county's assessed valuation indicates a psychology of poverty—not poverty itself.

The supervisors and assessing officers have come to accept as truth the belief to which they and some others subscribe: That Delta county is poorer than it was a decade ago and it is becoming poorer.

Year by year the assessing officers have let valuations slip, looking determinedly on the dark side, seeing poverty only, generally overlooking glaring instances where valuations have increased.

They overlook that farm wood-lots now have higher value because of the high price paid for pulpwood; they overlook that hundreds of acres of cut-over lands are now producing short stuff; they overlook that if a city man is willing to pay a high price for a shore property as a recreation spot, it's legal cash value has automatically increased; they overlook in practically all cases that valuations on real estate in the county is far below the sales price.

WE THINK WE ARE—The state of Michigan, by a careful sampling of property transfers in the county, has found that our total equalized valuation is $18,000,000.

The assessors and the board of supervisors looking on the dark side and weeping over our poverty, have placed the total assessed valuation at $15,821,400.

The state's figure of 18 million dollars is considered the true cash value of the assessed property in the county. It arrived at its figure by checking the sales of property—finding out through the register of deeds office how much the lands were sold for.

The county's figure is largely one of guess—for the assessing officers never consulted the cash value figures which were more readily available to them than to the state.

Prosecutor Strom, who has been working like a Trojan to help the supervisors get out of their own predicament of self-imposed poverty, has again directed their attention to the need for assessing at or near the "true cash value" as defined by law. In a recent statement in writing to the supervisors he said:

"I also enclose comparative statement showing the sales price and the assessed valuation on 50 different transfers of property in Delta county—to illustrate the fact that the assessments are very much below true cash value as defined by law."

The comparison shows that the total sale price of the 50 transfers was $107,027.30 while the assessors had valued the same property at only $45,350. The valuation was only 42.3 per cent of the cash value.

The Lyons Den

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK—On the eve of Decoration Day, in the Marshall Islands, Brig. Gen. Robert L. Denig, head of the public relations bureau of the Marine Corps, visited the grave of his son. The young man had been killed when the tank he was driving was hit during the American assault on the island. This is how Gen. Denig learned of his son's death: A series of action photos was rushed to his P. R. O. desk at Marine headquarters. The pictures were taken by a combat photographer. They showed a tank being hit and the men being carried out of the burning machine. Gen. Denig recognized the name painted on the tank, and knew it was his son's.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

(Lt. Col. Robert S. Allen now on active service with the Army)

Washington—While American doughboys are fighting the toughest battle in history, another decisive battle is going on in Washington without benefit of headlines. It is the battle for control of the tremendous surplus war property owned by the Government.

One group, headed by the Bernie Baruch-Lehman Brothers - General Electric faction, has the skids all greased to pass, as quickly as possible, legislation putting surplus property mainly in the hands of the big firms which have profited most from the war.

The other group, headed by a coalition of Democratic and Republican Congressmen, is determined that the disposal of war goods shall not head the country into another economic tailspin.

At the end of World War I, the U. S. Government sold about seven billion dollars worth of surplus goods with no orderly plan. Some of the goods were dumped on the market, with speculators making fortunes overnight. Some were sold in France without any stipulation that the French people were to benefit, so that French speculators bought them up and reaped juicy profits by shipping them back to the U. S. A.

Part of the blame went to Bernard M. Baruch, criticized for turning the key on his War Industries Board immediately after the war, and going home.

Now, instead of seven billions there are about 75 billion dollars worth of surplus war goods—including 1,500 new war plants built with 25 billions of Government funds. Months ago, Republican Representative Charles Halleck of Indiana and Democrat Wright Patman of Texas started work on a bill to provide the equitable sale of post-war Government property. Hearings began in March.

—AUTHORITY TO ONE MAN—

Then, suddenly, John Hancock of Lehman Brothers, whom Bernie Baruch brought down from Wall Street to write his post-war reconversion report, swung into action. With him swung Will Clayton, largest cotton broker in the world, whom Baruch has already placed in the key job of disposing of U. S. war property. They asked Congressmen Patman and Halleck to hold up their bill. The latter two obliged.

Meanwhile, the Baruch-Hancock group prepared a new bill, called "The Clayton bill," which has the effect of giving one man—in this case, cotton broker Clayton—blanket authority to dispose of war property in any way he sees fit.

Members of the House Small Business Committee are up in arms. So is the Senate Post-War Mobilization Committee. They claim that the Clayton bill is tailor-made for big business and speculators, and that, if it passes, the country can expect a new heyday of monopoly and another chaotic economic tailspin.

UNVEIL HONOR ROLL SUNDAY

Masonville Township To Honor Servicemen At Rapid River

One hundred and sixty-five men and women in the armed forces of the United States from Masonville township will be honored Sunday afternoon, June 18, at Rapid River when a roll of honor bearing their names will be unveiled and dedicated.

The ceremony is scheduled for 2 o'clock at the Rapid River high school grounds. If the weather is inclement the ceremony will be held in the school.

Two of the 165 names are those of women who are now serving in the Woman's Auxiliary Corps.

Several names have yet to be added, and it is possible that a few names may have been overlooked. Should the name of any Masonville township man or woman in service not appear in the list, the committee requests that the name be submitted to Fred C. Cavill, committee chairman, of Rapid River.

The honor roll is being erected by joint action of the Masonville township board and the board of education.

The program will open with the singing of "America," followed by invocation delivered by the Rev. C. A. Peterson. The unveiling and presentation of the honor roll will follow, with Probate Judge William J. Miller making the presentation speech. Judge Miller will also sing "Land of Hope and Glory."

Ralph Sheehan, Marquette, will deliver an address, and the program will close with the singing of "America the Beautiful." Joseph Casimir will be master of ceremonies.

Following is the list of names to appear on the honor roll:

Roger Archambault, Samuel Barboe, Lloyd Ballard, Kenneth Blosser, Albert Bond, Milton Bonz, Harvey Boprie, Napoleon Boudah, George Brown, Carl E. A Prison Make

London. (AP)—The regulations which forbid a male U. S. army officer from rating a WAC private in the European theater of operations were satirized in the first U. S. soldier-WAC show in Britain. A standing-room-only audience, including many brass hats, applauded the following ditty:

"I don't want to be a colonel Or an admiral in blue I don't want to be a colonel If I can't fraternize with you."

"I could be a private Not a stripe unfurled But with your affection I'd be the happiest private in the world."

Nazis Still Expect To Win, Says Allen, Repatriated Writer

BY LARRY ALLEN

NEW YORK. (AP)—During eight months as a Hitler prisoner of war I have seen Germany from inside and outside her prison camps, have traveled through fortified areas and over her railways from Brenner Pass to the Polish Corridor, and am convinced that she still expects to win the war.

She is counting upon stopping the Allied invasion, forcing a stalemate and an eventual negotiated peace which to every German would mean victory.

Her warlords tell the German people and those of Nazi-Satellite countries that:

1.—Germany has at least 4,000,000 crack troops in the west, backed by powerful fortifications.

2. She has saved a minimum of 5,000 fighter aircraft alone to meet the invasion, deliberately letting the allies believe there is a shortage.

3. Her bombed out war factories are being rebuilt in new locations by captive workers as fast as they are smashed.

4. Communications systems, great, fast electrified railways, are virtually intact except in the Berlin and Northern French districts.

5. The high command claims 800 divisions—roughly about 8,000,000 men—are ready in both east and west; that eastern front losses are small because of ordered, strategic withdrawals.

6. German internal food supply and civilian morale, despite heavy allied bombings, is surprisingly good.

7. Lastly, but not least, Germany says the allies are morally weak. She particularly singles out the American as an "I want to go home" soldier.

There was considerable sabotage in Germany in 1941 and 1942. Today, it is virtually non-existent, because of Himmler's gestapo and the Wehrmacht police.

German officers smile at allied reports of thousands of tons of bombs dropped, and at claims that communications to the eastern front have been disrupted.

They don't deny the bombings, but say the results are something else.

A few weeks ago I was transferred from a prison camp near Poznan, in Poland, to Stuttgart. Then taken to Marseilles, liberated and boarded a repatriation ship.

In the great railway terminals—Poznan, biggest supply center for the eastern front; Breslau, Gerlitz, Dresden, Augsburg, Innsbruck, Munich, Salzburg, Regensburg, Karlsruhe, Stuttgart, and in France, thousands of German troops were on the move. Passenger trains were jammed.

But in hardly any of these had there been any permanent damage to stations or tracks, although bombs had left wide trails of destruction through nearby war plants.

In Munich, where damage is widespread, the great east station is virtually intact, although the south station is a shambles.

One answer to Germany's maintenance of transport is that she forces millions of manacled prisoners to work like brutes repairing tracks.

The allies have dropped millions of leaflets, but from the results I have seen, they might as well save their paper. The only language a German understands is that of cold steel.

Map of Germany Just Issued By Nat'l Geographic

As United Nations and Nazi forces stare distrustfully across the English Channel and D-Day predictions top the interests of armchair strategists, the National Geographic Society announces release of a ten-color wall map of Germany and its Approaches.

Taking in the Channel Coast of England and the coast of continental Europe from LeHavre, France, to Copenhagen, the Danish capital, the map reaches south to the industrial cities of northern Italy and includes nearly all of Hungary, and Yugoslavia as far as Belgrade.

Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, President of the Society, in describing the map, said that it bears as many names as a chart of its size (33½ by 26½ inches) can hold, and that "even with the aid of a shoehorn additional names could not be squeezed on the chart."

With 8,286 place names the map contains more names per square inch than any other Geographic map. The European Channel Coast, or so-called Invasion coast, is so thoroughly covered that no landing of United Nations invasion forces could be made more than a few miles from a place named on the chart.

One of the unique features of the new map is the showing of the elaborate network of German military highways "built by the Hitler regime. The highway-building project, begun in 1933 and speeded up during the war, called for 8,500 miles of roads. Many of the highways were completed. They reach out from Berlin to Dusseldorf on the west, Munich on the south, Breslau on the east and Stettin on the northeast. A 560-mile highway spans Germany from the Baltic Sea to the Alps by way of the Nazi capital.

On the new map these double-lane highways, marked by double red lines, by-pass cities and towns. They have no grade-crossings or lights to slow traffic.

More than $1,000,000 of Latham Act funds have been allotted for new child care projects.

ARTHUR H. WAY WAR PRISONER

Cornell Flier Captured In Germany, Parents Are Informed

Sgt. Arthur H. Way, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Way, of Cornell, who was reported missing in action over Germany, May 7, is a prisoner of war of the German government, his parents have been advised in a telegram received from the war department.

The telegram follows: "Report just received through the International Red Cross that your son, S/Sgt. Arthur H. Way, is a prisoner of war of the German government. Letter of information follows from provost marshal general."

Sgt. Way was a waist gunner on a B-17, Flying Fortress. He was awarded the air medal early this year for five missions over continental Europe. On May 21 his parents were notified by the war department that he was missing in action over Germany. The International Red Cross later learned that Sgt. Way is being held as a prisoner of war in Germany.

He entered service Nov. 11, 1942, and trained in Texas before going overseas last November. A brother, Pvt. Alburt Way, is at Camp Crowder, Mo.

Today's Pattern

Little sister will be as cool-as-a-cucumber in this ray little frock—and a whole lot prettier than the oft-mentioned cucumber! Make the small Princess play dress, sun-bonnet and panties of vivid cross-bar cottons or dainty muslins. It's the nicest set you've ever made!

Pattern No. 8663 is in sizes 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 years. Size 3, dress, with sleeves, requires 12-4 yards of 39-inch material; bonnet, 1 yard; panties, 5-8 yard.

For this attractive pattern, send 15 cents, plus 1 cent for postage, in cents, with your name, address, pattern number and size to Escanaba Daily Press Today's Pattern Service, 530 S. Wells St., Chicago 7, Ill.

The smart new issue of the mid-summer style book—FASHION—has 32 pages of cool-looking, crisp new sportswear and summer day frocks and accessories. Order your copy now. Price 15 cents.

STREET OR BEACH—Commuter play clothes—ensembles that go modestly to and from beaches on public conveyances and can be stripped down to bare necessities for sun fun—are wartime fashions that are clicking this summer. Picturesque example is shown above in both fully-clad and sun-bathing versions of our outfit. A linen-type weave of spun rayon and cotton in a print inspired by a South Sea Island flower makes the bandeau and sarong-type shorts, shown right. Over these two pieces go a matching skirt and a blouse which picks up one of the colors in the print. (Photo from Dupont.)

Worry Clinic

With Case Records Of
A Psychologist

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE C-272: Sally Q., aged 18, is a college freshman.

"Is it necessary to get promiscuously in order to be popular with men?" she inquired.

"Aren't there any young men of high morals anyone who can enjoy a girl's company without trying to get unduly affectionate on the first date?"

"And how can I hold a boy's interest when there are glamorous girls in the crowd who drink and smoke and even worse?"

DIAGNOSIS: The average girl doesn't study masculine psychology long enough to learn the real secret for motivating men.

It isn't a girl's kisses primarily that make men surround the glamorous girls, nor is it the liberties that they hope for.

They want to feel important! Grown up! Sophisticated! Big shots!

When they crush a girl's lips against their own, do you think there is some special chemical that enchants them? Do those lips feel so much warmer or softer than the skin of her hand?

No, it isn't the warmth or perfume or any other chemical substance that miraculously attaches to the lips. Some primitive tribes rub noses, instead, so a kiss is only a conventional practice of our society.

A man kisses a girl chiefly because it makes him feel dominant and thus very important. As she surrenders in his arms and closes her eyes for the kiss, he feels himself to be the victor in their previous verbal fencing about love.

Men Love Themselves

A man usually loves himself more than any woman he will ever take in his arms.

Suppose a languorous glamor girl slouches over toward him and provocatively inquires:

"Whatcha drink, Big Boy? How about a little drink with me?"

She affects ultra sophistication. He has previously been somewhat shy and socially self-conscious, for he has been uncertain what Emily Post would decree for all the situations he has been confronting.

This glamour girl intimates that he is a big shot, a playboy or man about town. It inflates his ego and makes him seem much more important to himself, especially since he had just been squirming uncomfortably in his embarrassment.

Is it any wonder, then, that he throws out his chest and struts his stuff, trying to live up to the movie stereotype of what he thinks a playboy should do or say?

How To Become Provocative

Shy Sally, however, who might have set beside him for half an hour, failed to pick up her cue and make him feel equally important.

She modestly waited for him to speak first. He sensed that she wished him to take the lead in conversation and dominate the social situation as he vaguely sensed a man should do.

But he couldn't solve his dilemma and dominate it. The bold and provocative glamour girl then came over and solved it for him.

Intelligent, sensible young women should learn that a bantering tone of voice, and a gay dialogue wherein you keep furnishing conversational cues to your male companion, will inflate his ego.

Be lavish with compliments, meanwhile, always remembering that he wants to feel important!

Tactfully brush off his glutinous attempt to ravish your lips by intimating that he is too sophisticated and artistic to act like the teen age adolescent becoming suddenly intoxicated with his first kisses.

The most ravishing women can hold their men without even giving the latter a kiss. But you must use your brains and psychological strategy to do so!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3c stamped addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing or printing costs when you send personal advice or one of his psychological charts.)

was dismissed from the hospital and returned to his home here Monday.

Army's Railway Service Hauls Goods World Over

BY KERMIT V. SLOAN
Staff Correspondent of The Wall Street Journal

Washington—Meet the MRS. The MRS is the Military Railway Service of the Transportation Corps, Army Service Forces—the first organization ever set up by the American Government to operate railroads on foreign soil.

On five continents, from the frozen wastes of the Arctic to the sweltering tropics of the Middle East and India, the MRS is now supplying the advancing armies of the United Nations.

The numerical strength of this "railroad army" and the miles of rail line it operates are military secrets. But this much can be said: By the end of 1944, the MRS will be operating 60,000 freight cars and 4,000 locomotives. By comparison, such big domestic systems as the Southern, Union Pacific and Norfolk & Western, while using about the same number of freight cars have only about one-fourth as many locomotives.

Close on the heels of Allied troops pushing into Italy, Burma, India and other enemy-held areas, soldier-railroaders of this little-publicized segment of the armed forces are quickly restoring shattered railroads, rebuilding bridges and laying new tracks to keep supplies and equipment moving to the front and hospital trains moving to the rear.

Italian Roads on Schedule Again
In Italy, they followed the British and American invasion armies with a speed which astounded tactical commands, repairing railroads in areas where the Germans had done the most thorough demolition job the world has ever seen.

Five days after landing at Naples, the MRS had a railroad in operation. Salvaging old-time steam engines from bombed yards—although these coal-burners hadn't been used for years on Italy's highly electrified roads—the railroaders soon had them snorting and chugging as they hauled debris from the blasted port. The first train operated was the "General Mark Clark Special," powered by a 1908 underslung Italian engine.

In the thick of battle in Sicily, the fighting railroaders organized native workers, located and repaired equipment, and within four hours had steam up and wheels rolling.

On the trans-Italian railroad, one of the most unique in the world, the MRS has hauled more than a million tons of Lend-Lease tanks, guns and food across the Middle East to Russia to support the Soviet offensive. This road, running north from the Persian Gulf, bisects a 150-mile stretch of desert before straggling to heights of more than 7,000 feet in the Elburz Mountains. Extremes in temperatures—from 150 degrees on the desert to bitter cold in the mountains—made it perhaps the most intolerable road to operate in the world.

In North Africa, "way down under" in other far-away places, the Yankee rail men, drawn from American railroads, are delivering food and arms.

Rail Executives Organized MRS
The M. R. S. was organized late in 1939. The first effective military use of railroads occurred in the Civil War, but never until the M. R. S. was formed did the Army really prepare to operate foreign railroads in the event of war. To perfect the organization of the M. R. S., the Army called in Carl R. Gray, Jr., vice president of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad, and Brig. Gen. C. D. Young, vice president of the Pennsylvania. Now a Brigadier General, Gray is director general of the MRS in the Mediterranean theater. Young is deputy director of the Office of Defense Transportation.

Although set up along the usual military lines, the MRS is patterned strictly upon orthodox railroad organization. The basic unit is the railway operating battalion, made up of four companies.

•One company takes care of track and signal maintenance and maintenance of way; another operates the roundhouse and keeps equipment in working order; the third is the actual operating unit with 50 train crews in charge of a trainmaster; the fourth is a headquarters company in charge of dispatching and supplies. The operating battalion is organized to run a section of about 100 miles. Three or four battalions, together with a shop battalion, a base depot company and a mobile rail workshop, make up a typical "grand" division, which corresponds in scope and authority to a general superintendent's office on an American railroad.

Approximately half the estimated present strength of the MRS was formed on a reserve basis prior to Pearl Harbor, with personnel being drawn from the domestic railroads. Enthusiastic over the plan, the railroads sponsored entire battalions and made available their facilities for retaining other units. Now, rail troops are trained at 17 places in this country.

In taking over foreign railroads behind advancing Allied armies, the U. S. soldier-railroaders encounter all kinds of situations calling for liberal applications of Yankee ingenuity.

A Brass Pass
On the Bengal-Assam railway in India, a part of which they took over last March 1, they found a 25-mile speed limit, cars with only foot brakes, a primitive driving system requiring a "driver" (engineer) to obtain a brass check before going on to the next station.

The Bengal-Assam on one section has the world's widest rail gauge—five feet, six inches—and on another section the world's smallest gauge—two feet (The U. S. standard gauge is four feet, 8 1/2 inches.) Before the Yankees organized a new system of operation, "human sanders" were used to give the train wheels traction. Native squatted on the pilot "cow catcher" over the rails and dropped sand on the wheels when the route was upgrade. Three others perched atop the locomotive cab and, on a whistle signal from the engineer, would run back to the six or eight cars to apply foot brakes. The engine crew consisted of a turbaned driver (engineer) and two fireboys.

Inured to knocking over a cow once or twice a year on American railroads, the Yanks were appalled to learn that 1,100 cows (perhaps many of them sacred) were killed on the Bengal-Assam in 1942. Because there are few roads in this back country, natives use the rail right-of-way as a convenient route between towns, and livestock wander along the tracks in droves. Occasionally, wild elephants wreck the trains.

No Bed of Gold
One of the most difficult jobs taken over by the MRS' railroaders was operation of the White Pass & Yukon Railroad running from Skagway to Whitehorse, near the headwaters of the Yukon River in Alaska. This little-known line, built in 1901 to serve the Klondike gold field, was used to haul materials for the Canada-Alaska highway. Water became ice in the locomotive boilers, crews were marooned on their trains by giant snowdrifts, and wheels froze to the tracks.

But the army rail men's most dangerous task is clearing mines. "Bouncing Betsy's" and other booby traps left by the retreating enemy. In Italy, the MRS performed over 90 per cent of the mine-removal work along the rail lines. In North Africa, working under enemy fire and hampered by slashing rains and muck, they supplied the British Eighth Army and the American Second Army Corps over the shifting battlefronts.

Aside from their vital task during the war, the work of U. S. rail troops may have highly important post-war results. Railroaders in other parts of the world with less modern transport systems are learning Yankee techniques and are becoming accustomed to using American equipment. After the war there will be a vast market for new rolling stock to rebuild war-torn systems. The influence of the MRS will probably stimulate purchases in this country.

Fire Destroys Hen House

St. Nicholas—Shortly after midnight during the quiet early hours of Wednesday, June 7, fire destroyed a fair sized hen house at the Pamphill Dupuydt farm. The hen house was partitioned in two compartments to house both baby chicks and laying hens.

One hundred fifty baby chicks and approximately one hundred laying hens perished in the fire, and also some chick feed they had stored in the coop.

The hen house was situated near the garden and the blaze caused severe damage to five large apple trees and scorched a huge area of garden vegetables and green.

The Dupuydts, who were asleep at the time, were notified of the fire by a neighbor, Mrs. Julie Cavanaugh, who observed the blaze from her home nearby.

A brooder in operation was believed to have been the cause of the blaze.

The loss was covered by insurance.

Hospitalized in Africa

Mrs. Peter Vermote received word from her brother, Mr. Raymond Duchaine, who recently arrived in Africa, stating he underwent an operation at a base hospital in Africa and will be hospitalized for some time. No other information was given. Mr. Duchaine is a cook in the U. S. Army.

Christine's Birthday

Miss Martha Van De Caveye entertained a group of relatives Thursday evening, June 8, complimentary to her sister Christine who celebrated her fourth birthday anniversary. Lunch was served. A large birthday cake centered the table. Christine, whose birthday is June 9, received many pretty and useful gifts.

W. HARRINGTON TO BE ORDAINED

Special Service Set For
7:45 p. m. Sunday At First Baptist

Rev. William A. Harrington, pastor of the First Baptist church here since last December, will be ordained in a special ordination service at 7:45 p. m. tomorrow.

The ordination will climax a two day meeting of the Marquette Baptist Association (upper peninsula) which begins here today at 2 p. m. The ordination sermon will be delivered by Dr. R. R. Brown of Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan.

Rev. Harrington, a graduate of Huntington College, Huntington, Indiana, received his advanced religious training at the Bohonake Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio. He moved here with his family early in December, 1943, delivering his first sermon at the First Baptist church on Walnut street on December 12.

His predecessor was Rev. Peter Bissett, now an Army chaplain.

Rev. Harrington is married and has two children. While in Manistique he has been especially active in youth affairs. Is a member of the Manistique Lions club, and has assisted in teaching at the high school.

The ordination service tomorrow is the first ever to be conducted in the Manistique First Baptist church, it was said.

Plan Special Help Soon For Women In Canning Problems

According to J. L. Heirman, women and girls in Alger and Schoolcraft counties are to receive special help in their canning problems in the next few weeks. A series of meetings and canning clinics have been arranged for all counties in the Upper Peninsula. They will be conducted by Miss Emily Parker, district home demonstration agent, and by Miss Helen Noyes, assistant state home demonstration leader, of Marquette.

Emphasis in the wartime canning program will be placed on the use of lids and rubbers available for fruit jars. Miss Parker and Miss Noyes have recently attended a conference at Michigan State College and they have the latest information on how to keep rubber rings from favoring foods and how to use lids available under wartime restrictions of metals. Causes and prevention of spoilage as well as successful canning methods will be discussed and demonstrated at these meetings. Announcements of dates will be made later.

• The big drive is on!

The showdown is at hand!

Never in all our history has America faced a more crucial moment. Now, as we go all out in our march to victory—you must join the fight, too! No matter how much you have done—you must do more! It is a solemn duty for every American to buy MORE War Bonds now—to back our fighting men to the limit!

You've done a magnificent job in supporting War Bond drives in the past. You won't fail now, in this crucial hour. But that means you must double your previous efforts. Invest double the amount in extra War Bonds during this 5th War Loan drive.

If you are on the payroll savings plan, arrange to buy extra War Bonds.

If you are not on a regular War Bond buying schedule, all the more reason for buying more bonds than ever before!

You are part of the Invasion Forces. Do your full part!

WILL YOU BE A VICTORY VOLUNTEER?

Many patriotic men and women have already signed up to act as Victory Volunteers but more are needed. As a Victory Volunteer, you will serve your country in one of the most important missions ever given to civilians in wartime. Spend an hour or two a day in your own neighborhood. The task is important—the rewards in satisfaction great, for you will have the satisfaction of helping America toward Victory. Baseball Meeting This Morning At Diamond In Park

All youngsters interested in playing baseball this summer should attend a meeting at the new diamond across from the police post this morning at 10 o'clock.

Boys now on a team will play against the boys that are not as yet signed up with an organized team. This is the last chance for boys not listed on a team to get into the league. After the scheduled game no teams will be added and then they will have to take a chance of getting a place on one of the league teams.

Junior games will be played in the morning so as to give the youngsters an opportunity to go swimming in the afternoon or to play against outside competition. The age group for juniors is up to 15 years.

A request has been made to the recreation department to have a period for girls' softball, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock the final game of the season will be played at the new diamond opposite the state police post. Girls of all ages are invited to be on hand so as to get an early start in league play. Equipment has been purchased, including a girl's mask and body protector. Light weight bats especially designed for girls will be used.

REA CO-OP TO MEET JUNE 21

Post War Program To Be Discussed By Ass'n Members

The annual meeting of the Alger-Deila Cooperative Electric association is to be held Wednesday, June 21, at the Legion hall, it is announced by Wynand Nieuwenkamp, manager of the association.

Notices are now being sent to all members of the cooperative by Sener Thorsen, secretary.

Consideration of a hydro-electric generating plant, a post war expansion program, and rate schedule will be matters highlighting the meeting.

Also on the business docket will be reports of officers, directors and committees.

Three directors will be selected for three-year terms and one director named for a two-year term.

The session will open at 10 o'clock in the morning.

News From Men In The Service

Promotion to the rank of sergeant has been earned by Stanley Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. Hawkins, city. Sgt. Hawkins is with the U. S. Army in the Panama Canal Zone. He has been stationed there for the past two years.

Sgt. Kenneth Johnson, Army Air Corps, has arrived safely in England according to word received here by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Johnson.

Founder Of Bible Camp Will Preach

Cameron MacArthur, founder and director of the Upper Peninsula Bible camp, located on Farmer's Lake near Gwinn, will speak at services both morning and evening Sunday in Bethel Free church.

The pastor, the Rev. J. Fred Young, and delegates of the local church are attending the 60th annual conference of the Evangelical Free church of America which is convening in Chicago June 14-18.

At the evening service Mr. MacArthur will show pictures of the camp and deliver an illustrated lecture. All boys and girls planning to attend the Bible camp this summer should turn in their registration blanks to Mr. MacArthur on Sunday.

Discharged veterans of World War II are entering industry at the rate of about 79,000 a month.

RULES

1. The contest is open to everybody, men, women and children. Contest opens with the legal fishing season and closes on Labor Day. Envelopes containing entries must bear a postmark not later than September 4, 1944, to be eligible.

2. All fish entered in the contest must be caught in public waters of Upper Michigan during the open season in the respective fish class.

3. Contest is limited to fish taken with hook and line. Any legal lure may be used. Lake trout must be caught on a rod or line freely held in the hand and not attached to a boat.

4. All information asked for on the entry blank should be supplied.

5. Failure to give length and weight will disqualify entries. Fish must be weighed on tested scales and measured with a steel tape measure. The length taken from the end of the lower jaw with the mouth closed to the tip of the tail, and the greatest girth of the fish taken. Weight may be given dressed or in the round, or both.

6. In the wall-eyed pike and black bass classes a photograph is desirable to be sure of identity of the species.

7. In the event of two or more fish weighing and measuring exactly the same, identical trophies will be awarded. Greatest measurements will decide the winner when weights are approximately equal.

8. Accompany your entry with a photograph of yourself or the fish or both together with a brief story of how, where and when the fish was caught. A photograph is not essential to win an award but it is desirable.

9. The entry blank printed above, or an exact copy must be used. It must be signed by the person catching the fish and by two persons who examined the fish and verified its weight and measurements. The contestant agrees, if requested to do so by the judges, to furnish an affidavit attesting to the truth of all statements made in the entry.

10. Contestants may make as many entries in all classes as they wish.

PRIZE AWARDS

In each of the 13 classes the angler entering the fish which is adjudged to be the largest in its class will receive a trophy in recognition of his or her accomplishment.

Additional blanks may be had free of charge by addressing Outdoors Editor Escanaba Daily Press, Escanaba, Michigan.

Tigers Trimmed 14 To 1 By Browns; Rally In 7th Beats Cubs, 10-5

FIVE PITCHERS GET DRUBBINGS

Detroit Defeat Is Worst Of Season; Shutout Barely Avoided

Detroit, June 16 (AP)—Pitcher Bob Muncie gained his fifth successive victory and sixth of the season tonight as the St. Louis Browns whipped the Detroit Tigers, 14 to 1, in a twilight game before 14,951 spectators. It was Detroit's worst defeat of the season.

The Browns took off on five Detroit pitchers for 14 hits and gathered enough to win on four unearned runs in the first inning off Frank Overmire, who suffered his sixth defeat. The Tigers evaded a shutout when Jimmy Outlaw doubled and Don Ross singled in the second.

Overmire started well by fanning Don Gutteridge, but Pinky Higgins and Ross made errors to put two men on base and that started the scoring parade. Tom Hafey doubled a run home and Overmire passed Mark Chrisman intentionally to fill the bases. This was a mistake for Milt Byrnes smashed a two-run single that provided the margin of victory. Another run scored on Floyd Baker's fly before Overmire got the side out.

Singles by George McQuinn and Hafey followed by Byrnes' fly produced a run in the third. Overmire left in the fourth when the Browns rallied for five runs, chasing Joe Orrell before Bob Gillespie retired the side.

Gillespie yielded two runs in the fifth before retiring for a pinch hitter. Walter (Boom) Beck was touched for two runs in the eighth and required the help of Jake Mooney, who pitched a scoreless ninth.

Kreevich Leads Attack

The Browns' attack was led by Mike Kreevich who gathered three hits and drove in two runs, Byrnes and Chrisman each drove in three runs and George McQuinn scored four times.

Vernon Stephens, the St. Louis sparkplug, was out of the lineup with an injured hand, but Baker played the shortstop position spectacularly and got two hits.

Detroit introduced a new player in Shortstop Leslie Floyd, who replaced Joe Hunter in the fifth and got a double and a single in his major league debut.

Johnny Gorsica will face Sigmond Jakucki on the mound in a single game tomorrow. The clubs closed the series with a double-header Sunday.

The victory was the sixth in seven starts for St. Louis over Detroit this season. St. Louis 401 520 020—14 14 6 Detroit — 010 000 000—1 9 2 Muncie and Hayworth; Overmire, Orrell, Gillespie, Beck, Mooney and Swift.

YANKS BUNCH HITS

New York, June 16 (AP)—Bunching six of their nine hits in the sixth inning for five runs the World Champion New York Yankees got back on the victory trail today with a 6 to 1 decision over the Philadelphia Athletics. It was the A's fifth straight setback.

Until the Yankees cut loose with their big frame, the game was a pitching duel between Bobo Newsom and Hank Borowy. The Athletics scored in the opener on doubles by Joyner White and Frank Hayes. The Yankees squared accounts in the third on a pair of singles and a walk.

The Yankees' big inning included three infield hits and a two-run triple by Borowy, who checked the Athletics with five hits for his eighth triumph as compared to three defeats.

Philadelphia 100 000 000—1 5 1 New York — 001 005 000—6 9 1 Newsom, Wheaton and Hayes; Borowy and Hemslay.

VICTORY STREAK SNAPPED

Washington, June 16 (AP)—Milo Candini blanked Boston with five hits as Washington turned back the Red Sox, 4 to 0, before 10,256 customers tonight. The defeat snapped Boston's victory streak after nine straight.

The Senators slapped Clem Hausmann for all eight of their blows and their four scores. Hausmann worked five innings. Mike Ryba tolled a couple of frames and Yank Terry finished. It was Hausmann's loss.

The Senators climbed on Hausmann for three hits and two runs in the first and added scores in the fourth and fifth. Bobby Ortiz continued his fine hitting with a pair of blows. Bobby Doerr connected twice for the Sox. Boston — 000 000 000—0 5 1 Washington — 200 110 000—4 8 0 Hausmann, Ryba, Terry and Partee; Candini and Ferrell.

Cleveland, June 16 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox bunched four of their six hits in two innings to defeat the Cleveland Indians 3 to 1 before 14,089 at Cleveland Stadium tonight.

Orval Grove limited the Tribe to four blows in the first eight innings but weakened in the ninth and Gordon Maltzberger came in to fan Manager Lou Boudreau with the bases filled.

The game was held up for ten minutes in the last half of the sixth when plate umpire Bill Summers became involved in a verbal altercation with a fan in a box seat behind home plate. The Indians' manager persuaded the customer to leave when Summers threatened to forfeit the game to the White Sox unless the fan was ejected. However, the customer returned to his seat after play was resumed.

Chicago — 010 000 200—3 6 1 Cleveland — 000 000 100—1 5 1 Grove, Maltzberger and Tres; Harder, Gromek and Rosar.

GLADSTONE TIPS ESCANABA 9-3

First Inter-City Baseball Game Draws Crowd Last Night

In the first inter-city baseball game so far this season, the Gladstone boys defeated Escanaba 9 to 3 at the 18th avenue diamond last night before a crowd of fans from both cities.

Lundeen led the Gladstone batters, chalking up two hits, one a double, in the three times he was at the plate. One of Gladstone's runs was by D. Arntzen, a fast player, who stole home in the sixth. Schense at the mound for Gladstone pitched a good game, holding the hits scattered and running into trouble only in the third inning.

Escanaba's Jim Ross sized up well as a promising young pitcher, getting four strikeouts and with plenty of grounding and popping out. Beck also showed up well, striking out four of the five men he faced.

Score by innings: Gladstone — 001 161 0—9 6 5 Escanaba — 012 000 0—3 6 5 Doubles: B. Pruett, Escanaba; C. Lundmark, Gladstone.

Struck out by: F. Schense, Gladstone, 14; J. Ross, Escanaba, 4 in 3 innings; B. Peterson 1 in 1-2-3 innings; Pruett 2 in 1 inning; Beck 4 in 1-1-3 inning.

Bases on balls off: Schense 3; off Ross 1; Peterson 2; Pruett none; Beck none.

Hits off: Schense 6; Ross 1; Peterson 4; Pruett none; Beck 1.

Winning pitcher: Schense.

Losing pitcher: Peterson.

Yankees Can Take It, Says Martin; No 'If's' Heard

BY WHITNEY MARTIN

New York, June 16 (AP)—As one who can take it (He!) or leave it alone, we are glad to see the New York Yankees also can take it.

There hasn't been a sign of a beat from Skipper Joe McCarthy or the front office over the dismal days that have befallen the club; days when the hitters can't hit, the pitchers can't pitch, the fielders can't, etc.

Dismal days for the Yankees, that is. After all, the club was only four games out of the lead up to yesterday, although it likewise was only two games out of last place. Those American League teams are practically bumper to bumper.

But for a club that five years ago yesterday was 10½ games in front, and which almost annually is fixing itself comfortably at the top at this time of year, the present situation is practically a calamity.

Good Thing for Game

And a nice, cheerful calamity as far as the rest of the league and baseball in general are concerned, at that. Frankly, we think it's a fine thing, and that is said without venom and with a full knowledge the Yankees have earned their successes by dint of the sweat of the front office brow, meaning Ed Barrow and George Weiss.

But it was getting pretty monotonous, and promised to continue so indefinitely, and even a tried chicken begins to taste a little flat if you are stuffed with it day after day, although we'd like to experiment a little on that theory.

Were it not for the war there is every reason to believe the Yankees today would be flagpole sitting on top of the league as usual, with the other clubs just going through the motions as contented.

War, Great Leveler

Sure, the other clubs suffered player losses, but take a squint at the men who would be in the Yankee lineup right now if they weren't in the service — Joe Di Maggio, Charley Keller, Joe Gordon, Phil Rizzuto, Bill Dickey, Red Ruffing, Tommy Henrich, Spud Chandler to start the roll call. All, with a couple of exceptions, good for several more years.

The war has been the great leveler in the American League. If the war should end tomorrow and these men all returned by air mail, the Yankees unquestionably would resume where they left off.

But the war won't end tomorrow, and absence in the service might dull the skill of some of these men, tying new muscle knots and pouring lead into shoes.

Anyway, were it not for the war, fans could reasonably have expected the Yankees to be still in front in 1947 or 1948, anyway. Now, you can't even tell which club will be in front next October, and that situation may prevail for some years to come.

That's why we think it is good for the game to see the Yankees just another ball team this year. That chicken every day was beginning to taste like vinegar. How about a little dark brown taste this year? That St. Louis club has been trying a long time.

Million Homes To Be Built

Contrasted with the normal annual building rate of 504,000 homes a year, it is estimated that during the first three years of the post-war period, one million homes will be constructed annually.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

Joe DiMaggio, former king of the sluggers, made his bow in the Hawaiian league on June 4 and treated the 21,000 spectators to the longest home run in the Honolulu stadium in years. It was DiMaggio's only hit of the game but it was a lulu, traveling 435 feet.

The blow, however, was not sufficient for victory for DiMaggio's 7th AAF team, which lost to the Navy, 6 to 2. In addition to his long homer, DiMaggio thrilled the fans with a perfect peg from center field to the plate to beat the runner by several feet, only to have the throw wasted because the AAF catcher lobbed the ball. Bob Harris, former Athletics' hurler, pitched for the navy, yielding only four hits.

Lou Boudreau, manager of the Cleveland Indians, believes that the American league champion this year will be one of the western teams, perhaps his own Tribe. Boudreau claims St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland are tops in the league and points out that if the league race continues to be as close as it is now, the western teams will have the advantage on the home stretch because they wind up the season at home. The Cleveland boss believes that the period from June 12 to June 25 may tell the story of the Indians' pennant bid, because he is currently engaged exclusively with competition from Detroit and Chicago.

Red Cross Golfing Tournament Turned Into Free-For-All

BY FRITZ HOWELL

New Rochelle, N. Y., June 16 (AP)—The $13,333 Red Cross 72-hole medal play golf tournament turned into a free-for-all today as the field of 110 hit the half way mark with a half-dozen players under par for two tours over the rugged, exacting course.

Out front, as expected, was Byron Nelson, former PGA and national champion from Toledo, who turned in his second straight 69—three under par—today for a 128 total. A newcomer to the big-time heights, Mike Turnesa of White Plains, N. Y., one of the seven "golfing Turnesa's brothers," was deadlocked with Nelson at the 133 figure, after blasting out a sensational 67 on his second round. Next, with 139 after a brilliant 68 today, was Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Philadelphia, who entered the play as co-favorite with Nelson.

Nelson and McSpaden, who dominated the winter circuit, and Turnesa were the only ones able to beat par on each of the opening rounds. Vic Ghezzi, the bronzed army sergeant from Deal, N. J., who paced the first round with a 67, slipped to 73 today and took over fourth place with 150.

Graig Wood, duration national open king from Mamaronock, N. Y., who soared to 77 yesterday, blew in with a 69 today to hit the halfway mark at 146, only two over par.

CNW "400" Defeats Northerns, 1 to 0

In an old timer's softball game played Thursday night at No. 4 diamond, the Chicago Northwestern "400" defeated Northern Motors in one of the best games of the year in any league by a score of 1 to 0. Boddy was winning pitcher and LaCasse twirled for the losers. The Railroaders win Thursday tied the series as they lost the first 5 to 4.

Immediately after the game, the winners were challenged to a game by another old timer's team managed by Leonard Racine which will be played Tuesday night at N. 4 diamond. The new team, newest one to be organized in the circuit is composed of many outstanding old timers and Tuesday's game should be a spine tingler.

Three teams of old timers are organized but a four is needed in order to re-organize the league and play a regular schedule. It is hoped that a fourth team will be secured by next week so that regular play can begin on June 27th. Any teams organized are asked to contact the city recreation department.

"HUMAN TORPEDO"

Britain's "human torpedo" has a blunt nose acting as a break-water protecting the crew of two. Powered by electric batteries, these craft dive under their targets, where the explosive charge mounted in the nose is detached and fixed to the enemy ship. Time fuses are then set, and the crew drives away.

PATRIOTISM IN JAIL

Richmond, Va. (AP)—When inmates of the city jail heard that the war and community fund drive was jacking, they took up a collection among themselves that totalled $100.

HOMER PROVES TURNING POINT

Bruin Pitcher Erickson Knocked Out Before He Gets Started

Chicago, June 16 (AP)—A three-run homer by Frank McCormick was the turning point today as the Cincinnati Reds, after surrendering an early lead, came back to pound out a 10 to 5 victory over the cellar-holding Chicago Cubs.

His fourth round-tripper of the season, McCormick's blow brought the third placers from behind during a seventh inning rally. On the next pitch Erick Tipton also homered off Hi Vandenberg, who until that frame had pitched shutout ball. Paul Erickson, the Chicago starter, had been knocked out before he could retire a batter in the first inning.

McCormick also got a double and single to lead the 13-hit attack off four pitchers, which gave Clyde Shoun his season's sixth victory. Shoun, who allowed ten hits, was excused for a pinch hitter during the seventh and Ed Heusser hurled hitless ball the last three frames.

Bill Nicholson's eighth homer of the year, coming after Lou Novikov singled Phil Cavarretta in with the 2-2 tying run in the fifth, put the Chicagoans ahead, 4-2. They added another run on a trio of singles in the sixth. Cincinnati 200 000 503—10 13 3 Chicago — 000 131 000—5 10 0 Shoun and Mueller; Erickson, Vandenberg, L. Fleming and Holm.

DUEL BROKEN UP

Philadelphia, June 16 (AP)—A tight pitching duel between Rube Melton and Charley Schanz fell apart in the sixth inning tonight, with the Dodgers scoring four runs and the Phillies three in the same frame, and the Dodgers went on to a 5-4 victory.

Schanz left the game in the sixth and Melton was relieved in the ninth, but retained credit for the victory.

The Dodgers' four came over on singles by Goody Rosen, Howie Schultz and Eddie Basinski, and a double by Dixie Walker, combined with a walk and a wild throw. The Phillies' three accrued from a walk, Ron Northey's triple and singles by Ted Cieslak and pinch-hitter Johnny Peacock.

Rosen's single and Walker's double gave Brooklyn the winning run in the seventh, and the Phils left the tying run on third in the eighth after scoring one on two walks, a sacrifice and an infield out.

Brooklyn — 000 004 100—5 9 1 Philadelphia — 000 003 001—4 9 2 Melton, Webber and Owen; Schanz, Covington, Matthews, Mussill and Finley, Peacock.

Brewers Blanked By Sailors, 8-0

Great Lakes, Ill., June 16 (AP)—Great Lakes' baseball team blanked the Milwaukee Brewers, American Association league leaders, 8-0 today to remain undefeated through 14 games this season. Jim Trexler, 20-game winner with Indianapolis last year, held the Brewers to two hits in six innings while the Bluejackets sewed up the victory with a seven run outburst in the sixth. The sailors had their big inning at the expense of Charley Shanklin through the medium of five hits, three walks, one wild pitch and a passed ball.

The sailors previously had beaten two other AA clubs, Columbus and Toledo, both by 8-0 scores.

Milwaukee 000 000 000—0 4 2 Great Lakes 000 007 108—8 10 2 Spruill, Shanklin, Farmer and Jordan, Bowman; Trexler, Weiland and Baker.

The Roving Reporter

steamer in the distance, but that was probably an illusion.
There were battleships and all other kinds of warships clear down to patrol boats. There were great fleets of Liberty ships. There were fleets of luxury liners turned into troop transports, and fleets of big landing craft and tank carriers and tankers. And in and out through it all were non-descript ships—converted yachts, river boats, tugs, and barges.
The best way I can describe this vast armada and the frantic urgency of the traffic is to suggest that you visualize New York harbor on its busiest day of the year and then just enlarge that scene until it takes in all the ocean the human eye can reach clear around the horizon. And over the horizon there are dozens of times that many.

We were not able to go ashore immediately after arriving off the invasion coast amidst the great pool of ships in what was known as the "transport area."

Every Boat Was Tied

Everything is highly organized in an invasion, and every ship, even the tiniest one, is always under exact orders timed to the minute, but at one time our convoy was so pushed along by the wind and the currents that we were five hours ahead of schedule despite the fact that our engines had been stopped half the time.
We lost this by drifting.

Although we arrived just on time, they weren't ready for us on the beaches and we spent several hours weaving in and out among the multitude of ships just off the beachhead. And finally just settled down to await our turn.

That was when the most incongruous—to us—part of the invasion came. Here we were in a front-row seat at a great military epic. Shells from battleships were whamming over our heads, and occasionally a dead man floated face downward past us. Hundreds and hundreds of ships laden with both milled around us. We could stand at the rail and see both our shells and German shells exploding on the beaches, where struggling men were leaping ashore, desperately hauling guns and equipment in through the water.
We were in the very vortex of the war—and yet, as we sat there waiting, Lieut. Chuck Conick and I played gin rummy in the ward-room and Bing Crosby sang
"Sweet Lullaby" over the ship's phonograph.

Angry shells hitting near us would make heavy thuds as the concussion carried through the water and struck the hull of our ship. But in our wardroom men in gas-impregnated uniforms and wearing life belts sat reading Life and listening to the BBC telling us how the war before our eyes was going.

But it isn't like that ashore. No,
it isn't like that ashore.

The oldest examples of glass work were found in the Egyptian tombs 4,000 years ago.

LOWE TO HEAD LOCAL PLANT

Long Island Man Named Lambert Factory Manager Here

Milton Lowe of Long Island, N. Y., will arrive today to assume the position of general manager of the Lambert Novelty and Mirror Works at Wells, succeeding Willis Engle, who resigned to rejoin the Standard Brands company at Sioux City, Ia.

Announcement of the appointment was made yesterday by Joseph Lambert, Brooklyn, head of the concern, who came here this week to assist the new manager in getting started here.

Mr. Lowe, who has had about twenty years of manufacturing experience, has been manager of the Murray Machine company in Long Island the past three years. His wife will join him here within a month.

About fifty persons are employed at the Lambert plant in the manufacture of wooden frames for pictures. The company plans to install a mirror department in the near future.

U. S. CARRIERS HIT CLOSE TO JAP MAINLAND

A task force destroyer later sent the vessel to the bottom. A hundred and twelve enemy survivors were rescued and made prisoners of war.

At Chichi Jima, whose small harbor is the largest port in the Bonin group, 33 Jap fighter planes attempting to intercept the raid were shot down.

A medium cargo ship was bombed and sunk at Chichi Jima. Four small cargo vessels and six small craft were damaged there.

Four multi-engine seaplanes also were damaged at Chichi Jima.

At two Jima 14 enemy planes were destroyed on the ground. Two more probably were shot down in combat.

Planes of the task force blasted fuel tanks, barracks, airfields and ground installations on all three islands.

Losses Light
Nimitz said American losses in the new carrier strike, the third at enemy island groups this week, were four planes and five flying personnel. Other island chains hit by U. S. task forces earlier in the week are the Kuriles, far to the north, and the Marianas, the latter in pre-invasion attacks.

The Bonin Island bases are those nearest Japan in the stepping stone chain of enemy staging bases by which fighting planes are ferried to conquered New Guinea and the Dutch East Indies.

The thrust onto Saipan, near the southern end of the Marianas and within 1,500 miles of Tokyo and the Philippines, seeks to sever that chain of bases.

ACCIDENT FATAL TO ESCANABAN

Benny Dubord, 18, Dies Of Injuries Received In May 28 Collision

Benny Dubord, 18, of 1015 Third avenue south, died at St. Francis hospital at 10:25 a. m. Friday as a result of injuries received in an automobile collision May 28. He was born July 24, 1925, at Quinnesec, and came to Escanaba as a baby in 1926. Surviving are the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Dubord; four brothers, John of Escanaba, Clifford of Detroit, Lawrence and Phillip of Escanaba; two sisters, Mrs. Conrad Herioux of Bark River and Doris, at home; his grandmother, Mrs. Malvina Vallincourt of Escanaba.

The body will lie in state at the Allo funeral home beginning at 3 p. m. today. Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Monday at St. Anne's church, with the Rev. Fr. Joseph Guertin officiating. Burial will be in St. Anne's cemetery.

LAST GERMAN ESCAPE ROUTE IN GUN RANGE

Tuesday at Montebourg on the approaches to Cherbourg. Montebourg is 10 miles northeast of St. Sauveur.

Battleships Back Troops
U. S. troops trying to split the Cherbourg peninsula now hold a 20-mile-long semi-circle running southwest from the Quineville area on the east coast, through Montebourg to St. Sauveur, and then southeastward to the Carentan area.

The communique said three U. S. battleships, the Texas, Nevada and Arkansas, carried out heavy bombardments in support of the U. S. troops near Carentan and Isigny, seven miles to the east. These points are in the center of the American front, on both flanks of which the Americans are well inland.

On Thursday the British battleship Ramillies, assisting British-Canadian forces at the eastern end of the Normandy line, silenced an enemy battery at Benerville after an hour's duel. The communique said. Benerville is near Deauville and about 20 miles northeast of embattled Caen.

The British battleship Nelson also engaged an enemy long-range battery north of Le Havre, farther up the coast, while Allied cruisers throughout the day duelled with other German shore batteries and fired on troop concentrations.

King George VI visited the Normandy front during the day and lunched with the Allied ground commander, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery. He crossed the channel on the cruiser Arethusa and landed on shore from an amphibious dock.

Adverse weather once more crippled Allied air activity. Whitehead said that the Germans threw cooks, truck drivers, and supply troops into the line before St. Sauveur.

WOMAN INJURED
Mrs. Addie Barney, West Superior street, suffered minor cuts and bruises when the car which she was driving suddenly got out of control and left the road on West Munising avenue in front of the foundry. She was taken to the hospital for treatment. Police are investigating to learn the cause of the accident.

The mule ranks first in the affection of North Carolina farmers, outnumbering the horse nearly five to one.

Boys' State Picks Mayors, Will Hear Gov. Kelly Tonight

East Lansing, June 16. (P)—Political activity among the 700 youthful citizens of the seventh annual Wolverine Boys' State, citizenship project sponsored by the American Legion, was in high gear today as the citizens of the 14 cities into which the state is organized elected mayors and other city officials.

State conventions, to choose candidates for governor, lieutenant governor and other state officials, were held this afternoon by members of the state's two political parties, and elections are scheduled for tomorrow morning.

Governor Kelly will speak at the inauguration of the boy governor tomorrow evening, after governmental machinery has been set up by the newly-elected officers.

Among the mayors chosen today are Donald Benham, Clarence Holt, Robert Tapworth and Dick Hanna, of Detroit; Dick Byrom, of Lincoln Park; Morris Miller, of Milan, and Jay Van Ommon, of Zeeland.

PEARL HARBOR SCANDAL BARED

German-Born Contractor Delayed Defense Work, House Report Says

Washington, June 14. (P)—The colonel in charge and the German-born contractor on defenses at Pearl Harbor were criticized by the house military committee for delays which, the report said, left the installations incomplete and the way open for the Japanese attack.

While the work fell behind, the committee said, Col. Theodore Wyman, Jr., of the army engineers accepted lavish entertainment from the contractor, Hans Wilhelm Rohl, in parties that involved liquor "by the case" and "cheap, commercial party girls."

It said the colonel was at Rohl's home in Hawaii when the Japanese struck Pearl Harbor, and that he rushed to his office

"in civilian clothes and in a drunken condition."

"How did it so happen," the committee asked, "that after nearly thirty years without taking the steps necessary to becoming a citizen, although meantime enjoying the fruits of government contracts, he (Rohl) suddenly began using every possible effort to become naturalized in order that he might be permitted to go to Hawaii just a little less than three months before the attack on Pearl Harbor?"

Rohl was naturalized in September and the Japanese hit Pearl Harbor in December.

FATHER FATALITY BURNED
Pontiac, Mich., June 16. (P)—Floyd L. Bowen, 31, was injured fatally and his two-year-old son, William, was burned critically today following an explosion of two fuel oil drums in the basement of his suburban home. Despite his injuries, Bowen drove four miles to a hospital with his son.

Shipyard earnings have increased 64 per cent since January, 1941.
